The registration process is complete only when the registration fee of $300 is paid. The registration fee is non-refundable, but is considered as the initial payment toward your total bill. Please note: you should wait to purchase airline flights until after you receive a registration confirmation from the Biblical Language Center (BLC). If the BLC is unable to confirm your registration, your $300 deposit will be refunded.

For the purpose of maximizing the effectiveness of the workshop, space will be limited. Generally speaking applicants will be accepted on a first come first served basis. However, since the workshop is aimed primarily at Greek-teaching faculty, priority will be given to them until April 1st. Other applicants (graduate students, TA's, pastors, etc.) will receive confirmation of their acceptance on that date with priority given to those who applied the earliest. Should the workshop already be full and an applicant not be accepted, their deposit will be refunded in full.
